

Meet the riders behind BDCW products

Black Dog Cycle Works' products are used and abused WORLDWIDE by many of the top names in our industry. It's the feedback from them, and riders like you, who provide the basis for BDCW's legendary product development and customer service.

Kurt

Kurt and Martha Forgét (like "For-jay") created Black Dog Cycle Works to feed their love of adventure riding. It's their deep-seated passion that drives the design and manufacturing of products with unparalleled ruggedness—including the industry's ULTIMATE skid plates.

They tirelessly punish their machines—having broken, bent or destroyed more than their share of parts in an ongoing quest for perfection. And with over 15 years of adventure riding and constant product development, Kurt and Martha have learned what works best, will last, will protect your bike—and what will help get you home from the backcountry.

While the ULTIMATE skid plates, bike armor, and Platform Footpegs are BDCW's core competency, they also offer other must-have accessories including: Enduristan luggage systems, LED lighting—all of which have been rigorously performance field tested by Kurt and Martha.

Martha

Based in beautiful and mountainous Sandpoint, Idaho, during the summer and idyllic Posada Concepcion, Baja, during the winter months, the Forgét's live and work in the ideal proving grounds for the equipment they design and offer.

For help or assistance on upgrading your adventure bike, give Kurt and Martha a call—they're here to help!

A personal note from Kurt & Martha: "Living in a small American town, we've come to know some of the most amazingly talented people. As a result, we made the solid business decision to build our company around these stellar craftsmen and craftswomen who care so much about their work, and continually WOW! our customers with superior workmanship. That's why all of BDCW's own products, and many that we distribute, are so proudly made in the U.S.A."

BACKCOUNTRY
ROUTES

As Idaho residents, we're proud to have contributed to and scouted some of our best secret motorcycling roads for the Idaho Backcountry Discovery Route (IDBDR). We also joined the BDR team for sections of the IDBDR expedition and appear in the DVD. Customers tell us all the time that they'd like to ride Idaho. Now they'll have the perfect excuse to come explore, enjoy and escape in our amazing state. We're excited about showing fellow riders our "backyard!"

What riders are saying—

“Dakar training takes its toll on you. Having Black Dog Cycle Works develop footpegs for our Honda race bike is a godsend. The stock pegs hurt after a few hours, and affect your riding after days on the pegs. These BDCW pegs let me stand for the entire day, day after day. They're huge and indestructible, but no heavier than the stock pegs.”

—Kevin Muggleton (Dakar racer/owner of Redverz Gear)

Jim Hyde at Kurt's class on recovery at the RawHyde Ranch. Jim and many of his instructors ride with BDCW skid plates and footpegs on their personal bikes.

“There's no other skid plate on the market that is as durable and will put up with as much abuse.”—Jason Houle (RawHyde Instructor)

BDCW “Helo Pads” and Rear Racks

Battle-ready, our racks are pre-drilled for Rotopax and WARN winch mounts. Big user-friendly tie down points make it easy to fasten cargo. Serious off-roaders can order theirs with WARN (also available from BDCW) winch mounts.

“I've tested the Black Dog skid plate in all conditions and it has held up great without even a dent. I can't afford to have anything but the best.”

—Casey McCoy (former KTM factory Dakar racer)

“Last month I bought your skid plate because of what Neduro and many others have said. This weekend I beat the sh*t out of my bike with rocks as big as small cars, and yup, the bike kept on rolling. There were 15 torn off GS skid plates on other bikes that weren't so 'lucky.’”—Paul Clanton

“I just returned from Uzbekistan, and along the way my Black Dog Cycle Works skid plate saved my bike. I hit something hard enough to knock me off the bike—but it did absolutely NO damage to the skid plate!”—Don Blackwell

“I absolutely love the Black Dog footpegs. I'm not experiencing the fatigue even after standing for a 200 mile ride across the desert.”

—Jeff Camacho (RawHyde Instructor)

“I've tried and tried to tear up that skid plate—Kurt got it right for sure!”

—Bill Dragon (Journalist)

BDCW Platform Footpegs

Stock BMW R1200GS footpegs

BDCW Platform Footpegs

HUGE in comparison to stock pegs. Far less fatiguing when standing, giving you so much more control—like power steering on your bike. CNC machined (not cast) from aircraft alloy for added strength and a claw-like grip.

Motorcycling industry icon, Jimmy Lewis, with his BDCW equipped GSA.

BDCW ULTIMATE Skid Plates

Uniquely frame mounted to protect more engine area—including around the headers. Built to take the pounding of real world off-roading. By comparison, most other skid plates are nothing more than costume jewelry. Don't compromise, you need the ULTIMATE Skid Plate!
